Dear Sir/Madam,

Re: Payment to EKB Technologies Ltd.

Following your inquiries with regard to technologies and transfer of patent rights, I wish to notify you as follows:

1. On 21 May, 2006 I forwarded you my correspondence, a copy of which is attached for your reference and convenience.
2. I hereby repeat my declaration that I have never undertaken any personal assignments for Explay Ltd. on a self-employed or freelance basis. Your agreement with me was that I would either formally register as a business enterprise, or that I would set up my own company, and I chose the second option. However, for reasons you did not disclose to me, and which bear no relevance, you are ignoring my notification.
3. Furthermore, without coordinating with me, you issued a personal payment to me for a debit note issued by my company, and even had the audacity to deduct 30% income tax.

As far as I am concerned, it is as if no actual payment has been received. The check is retained with me on your behalf, and only receipt of a replacement check in my company's name for the entire amount due, for which a receipt will be issued, will be considered by me as payment for work I performed on behalf of my company, and not, I remind you again, personally.

4. Until the above is settled, within the rights of the law, please do not refer any technology or patent right related matters to me, and I will act as I deem necessary.

Sincerely,

Yizhar Eyal
